

The Jothi team will curate a beautiful collaboration between the following groups who live and/or work in under-served communities.

- Newcomer Canadians
- Indigenous Artist Educators
- Emerging Artist Educators of colour

Once we have carefully selected participants we will collaborate to engage Newcomer communities in a series of creative and spiritual workshops to tell their stories of their journey to Canada.

The project will culminate in a beautifully curated exhibition showcasing artwork by all the newcomer participants, as well as, the artist/spiritual facilitators in a local gallery, within the community they live and/or work in.

Please contact us if you are interested in getting involved or would like to bring this project to your community!